B.Tech CSE (Data Science, Cloud Technology & Information Security)

About the Program

In a highly competitive market place, organisations have to rely on technology to improve their products/services and processes on a routine basis. Digitalization of all information has given an opportunity to businesses in the form of data science, through which organisations can plan strategies. By aggregating, cleaning, managing and analysing huge volumes of data, one can gain valuable insights which can help in crucial decision-making. Thus organisations have recognized the value data science can offer and are investing towards this domain to improve their productivity, efficiency and customer service. Two domains of IT, namely cloud technology and information security, have come to prominence as solutions to new-age IT challenges and needs. Cloud computing involves the use of remote servers for storage and management of data and software/ platform through the internet. Information security is concerned with the steps that are taken to protect the networks and systems from third party access. Both these domains have huge markets and require highly qualified professionals. There is great need for qualified talent in this new-age domain. The need has motivated Om Sterling Global University to offer B.Tech CSE Data Science program which is designed with inputs from industry veterans.

B.Tech CSE (Cyber Security, Artificial Intelligence & Machine Learning)

About the Program

Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning specialization in B.Tech (CSE) at OM Sterling Global University provides the core concepts of Computer Science along with fundamentals of Artificial Intelligence. Artificial Intelligence presents a solid foundation in the principles and technologies that underlie many facets of AI, including logic, knowledge representation, probabilistic models, and machine learning. Artificial intelligence (AI) is an area of computer science that emphasizes the creation of intelligent machines that work and react like humans. World is moving rapidly into Digital Era. The advent of e-commerce, IoT has touched millions of lives world over. These developments and rapid progress is possible due to the powerful technology of internet. Any technology not used properly can cause problems to the individual and society at large.

Criminal minds exist everywhere and use every opportunity to for their personal gains, either in the form of money or sheer pleasure. This gives rise to frauds in the financial systems like credit cards, internet banking or social media usage. It manifests in the form of identity thefts or in simple word unethical hacking or fishing attacks on networks to disrupt normal business. The technology is new and the ways of conducting crimes are also new. It is a no brainer that to tackle such crimes from detection, prevention and curbing also needs new methods, processes, technologies and tools.

These courses are designed in collaboration with upGrad with a aim at building expertise within the students so that they can effectively handle such situations and help industry save billions of dollars.

Prof. (Dr.) Shivedayal Pandey

Dean (Engineering & Technology)
(B.Tech (Mech. Engg.), M.Tech (IT, BHU, Varanasi), Ph.D. (MNNIT, Allahabad), IAENG, ISHMT)

The completion of school education brings a student to a crucial juncture in life. Students often find themselves at crossroads of choosing a course for higher studies that has an important bearing on setting the direction of their future career. They are also confronted with the dilemma of selecting the right college so as to translate their dreams into reality.

Also, it is a matter of common knowledge that in this era of international competition, where the entire globe has shrunk into a small village, professional competence of high order is the need of the hour. Spoken English and Communication Skills have to be developed for an integrated personality of our product. Sensitivities of the student clientele have to be appreciated and remedies provided.

I am glad to announce that we at Om Sterling Global University (OSGU) have designed our institutions and their functions from a student's perspective. The University has state-of-the-art infrastructure facilities - Buildings, Furniture, Equipment, Internet, Libraries, Hostels, Transport, Sports and other supporting services.

Collaboration with iNURTURE, Upgrad and international universities is a remarkable initiative.

It gives me immense pleasure in mentioning that OSGU lays due emphasis on extra-mural and extra-curricular activities so as to inculcate competitive spirit among students, enhance their technical skills, sharpen their wit and for all round personality development. Here students acquire practical skills such as teamwork, leadership and cultural awareness so that OSGU graduates leave the college with more than a degree after their name.

I welcome the prospective students and parents to visit OSGU and see themselves a word-class campus that eagerly awaits brilliant minds.

The choice of a career is one of the most important decisions a person can make in his/her life.

Studying hospitality management should neither be a chance nor a trend or fashion. One must have a will, an ambition and a passion for this field. Hospitality Management is now a major area of academic study, research and publishing.

School of Hotel Management (SHM), OSGU has been a pillar in the hospitality industry and an invaluable talent resource, as well as a beacon of hope for many aspiring students. Our SHM is one of the most esteemed and well-known hospitality management institutions in India. Students need to be prepared to meet industry demands. At the same time, our industry needs graduates and post graduates who can lead and drive innovation and growth.

We want our students to develop their academic knowledge but most importantly their cultural and ethical values and the respect for others. At the SHM, we prepare our students to be life-long learners, innovators, and professionals capable of being the next new generations of leaders in their careers, committed to personal integrity and civic responsibility. It is now our pleasure to show you how we are fulfilling this mission.

They are expected to participate in extra-curricular activities and to cultivate their awareness of social responsibilities. We also believe that an international perspective with understanding of different cultures will strongly contribute to students' development and future career potential.

Activities

Idea Diffusion

Get a creative and fun loving audience; ask them for one line startup ideas; people interested in the same idea can interact and form team; 1 hour preparation time for chalking out the implementation; 3-minute pitches to pick out the best ideas. (not necessarily an on-spot event only.)

Mentoring

Get mentors (entrepreneurs / investors/ industry professionals) for the best teams to help them make a Minimum Viable Product (MVP). This can even later be transformed into a course.

Case Studies

Students can team up and analyze other startups and make case studies/case lets about them which can also be used as a resource for other students. A good way to start off would be to profile startups run by alumni.

Summer in a Startup

Start an internship program which connects students to startups as summer interns.

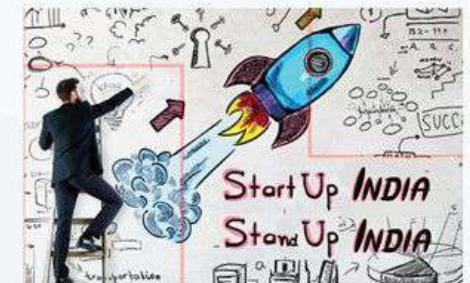

Start a Venture

If possible start a venture on campus to get first hand experience of starting up. If that might seem a little difficult, one/more groups can do a pilot run to get a better idea of how real life micro business work.

Objectives of EDC

- To fulfill our ultimate responsibility towards our nation by supporting "Start-up India", "Make in India" and such other initiatives as lay by government time to time.

Happiness Guru

Hello everyone! If we ask ourselves a simple question “Why we are on this planet? or What is the purpose of life? I think the answer would be that we are here to be live good and happy life and make each other life good and happy. Another simple question is in the mind after the first: What makes people happy or unhappy? If we don't have solid answers for this question, means there is no way for us to reliably increase happiness.

Fortunately, we now have scientific evidence to help us the answer of above said question, coming from unique combination of fascinating fields: Spirituality, Yoga, Positive psychology and Neuroscience. For last one decade psychologists have started working on positive emotion such as happiness and now scientists look happiness hormones as anti-stress hormones. Many researches claimed that happiness is good for health and relationship, it decrease stress level, enhance productivity.

Yet despite of many benefits of Happiness, we find ourselves unable to maintain it in day to day life and as a country (India) we are losing our rank in world happiness index continuously. At Om Sterling Global University, where a student & staff is a treasured asset, we initiate the happiness training program time to time not only for the students and staff but also for other schools, college, institutions of India.

Soft Skill Training

“The capacity to learn is a gift; the ability to learn is a skill; the willingness to learn is a choice”, Brian Herbert (Author).

OSGU 's soft skill training and personality development department's goal is to prepare and present, well-structured and carefully designed training, which will assist professionals of all levels to unlock and discover their potential to grow.

Technical skills help securing a basic position in one's life and career. But only soft skills can ensure a person to retain it, climb further, reach a pinnacle, achieve excellence, and derive fulfilment and supreme joy.

Soft skills comprise pleasant and appealing personality traits as self-confidence, positive attitude, emotional intelligence, social grace, flexibility, friendliness and effective communication skills.

Soft skill trainings are to groom the students for their goal setting, self actualization and Inter-personal skills, presentation skills and aiming to excellence etc.

What it takes to reach your personal best

Let's face it. Success doesn't just happen. You can't buy it, wish for it or wait for it to come to you. Whether you're an athlete at the top of your game or an academic student, you've got to dig deep, work hard and keep at it. You need to surround yourself with inspiring, nurturing people. The kind of people who say: "You can do it. You've got it in you. You're made of the same stuff as winners, leaders, achievers. And don't you ever forget that."

Hard work

There may be early starts, long days and late nights ahead. But trust us, all your hard work will be rewarded in the end.

Teammates

You know what they say: you're only as good as those around you. Surround yourself with inspiring people and their positivity will rub off on you.

Tenacity

Learning from your mistakes, carrying on despite the setbacks, then getting your highest mark yet and still pushing for higher. That's tenacious.

Positive mindset

Know that failure is just a bend in the road. That problems only exist to be solved. Walls can be climbed, mountains can be scaled, scars will heal and luck will come your way.

Wide eyes, open ears

Listen to your peers and mentors. Learn from their knowledge and experiences. Always keep an eye out for opportunities, and when one comes your way just say yes.

Self-belief

You can do it. That's probably what your best friend would say to you if you were feeling unsure. If you just believe in yourself, like they believe in you, anything's possible.

Courage

Facing your fears. Doing things differently. Standing up for what you believe in. They all take courage.

Nerves

It's OK to be nervous. In fact, it's more than OK. Research tells us that nerves and anxiety can actually boost our brain power and performance."

Preparation

What do you want? What do you need to do, or know, to get it? What sacrifices will you have to make? As the maxim goes, "The will to win is not nearly as important as the will to prepare to win."

The right tools

Whether that's 3G pitches, a 48-track recording studio, a 24/7 library with 1M+ books, a simulated hospital ward, a supercomputer, state-of-the-art labs or just a quiet space to work day or night.

In addition to learning about the subjects they have chosen to study, higher education must inculcate in them a sense of social responsibility. There is a growing interest in social responsibility of the corporations among academicians and practitioners. Companies now are not only expected to be responsible to their shareholders but to society in general. Universities, as the centers of knowledge generation and sharing, play a very important role in solving world's problems by ensuring a sustainable tomorrow. There is a growing interest in social responsibility of the corporations among academicians and practitioners. It was expected that education would contribute solutions to these problems to some extent. However, in spite of enhanced investment on expenditure, leading to increased enrolment, these issues remain largely unattended. Fill this missing link Om Sterling Global University, has attempted in integrating advanced knowledge and skills with larger social concerns.

Your talent. Our academic power.

Choose Hull if you want a university that will give you the teaching, facilities, opportunities, ambition and inspiration to succeed.

We've got a longer track record than most

It is a surprising fact that we are making our presence felt in the education sector for the last 12 years. Our presence has enriched not only us but also the student fraternity of a very wide area. The expertise gained and its dissemination on the one hand with state-of-art educom classes, hi-tech labs, LCDs projectors and on the other the traditional class room set up has carved a niche for us.

We've been recognised for our academic impact

OSGU has earned its name in the top ranking universities of the country. Getting this ranking in a span of a decade and couple of years is a remarkable achievement and this is reflected in our curriculum and teaching. You are taught here by the experts who are publishing their research papers and books continuously, who are patenting often, they are those who are hosting conferences, seminars of national and international level. They are editors of magazines and journals they host their own Youtube channels and present T.V. and Radio Shows.

We've changed the world and won awards

Our students and our faculty won prizes on a regular basis. Weather it is sports or it is academics our students are creating waves in the education arena. Our teacher of paramedical sciences prepared a hand sanitizer long back in November 2019. Our teachers motivated our students to venture in renewable energy resources and a group of our students prepared a flourmill powered by solar energy and many such innovative projects are the part of day to day practical exposure of our students. We push our students to think out of the box so that they can contribute to the society by their innovations.

We deliver teaching that works

Our vision and mission is totally based upon the utilitarian approach of education. Our curriculum is based on latest demand of the market and our faculty keeping pace with the evolving technology teaches industry demanded skills and course. Our students are let free to participate and lead in the classroom activities so that their learning level should be beyond the common lecture and presentation methods.
