CENTRE FOR POST GRADUATE LEGAL STUDIES

All the LLM and PhD programmes at JGLS are offered under the aegis of the Centre for Post Graduate Legal Studies (CPGLS). The CPGLS at the Jindal Global Law School is established to provide students with quality teaching and learning opportunities thereby creating an intellectually stimulating academic environment with experienced and dedicated faculty committed to provide an excellent and world-class education. The Centre has already commenced with a one-year LLM programme, which is the first programme of its kind in India, with specialisations being offered in Corporate and Financial Law and Policy, International Trade and Investment Law, Intellectual Property Rights and Technology Law and a General LLM.

The General LLM programme allows students to choose courses in any area of law that interests them and gives enough flexible options whilst maintaining the rigours of an LLM.

CPGLS, JGLS has launched a full-time LLM Programme in Taxation for working professionals. JGLS collaborated with the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants for the purpose of offering intensive expertise in contemporary developments related to international taxation and internationally accepted accounting standards.

The CPGLS entered into a partnership with the Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies, Geneva for a real time legal project on Trade and Investment Law. The goal of this project and the collaboration is to make legal expertise in trade and investment matters more broadly available to actors, including small and medium Enterprises (SMEs) and developing countries. Through this project, the LLM students at JGLS will have an opportunity to work on 'real' questions by analyzing trade and investment law and jurisprudence through supervised legal clinics by Professors from JGLS and Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies, Geneva. The Centre for Post Graduate Legal Studies has received a letter of support from The Permanent Court of Arbitration (PCA), The Hague, The Netherlands in 2014.

The faculty at CPGLS has a strong research orientation and the regular LLM students are expected to contribute to faculty and research center projects in the University. CPGLS promotes interdisciplinary studies, joint teaching and joint research programmes in partnership with other Schools in the University and with partner Universities of the O.P. Jindal Global University with which JGU established international collaborations and semester exchange programmes.

With respect to all the programmes under the aegis of CPGLS, the intensive curriculum provides a number of electives on contemporary topics in international and business oriented law streams. The courses and curriculum reflect the contemporary needs of a rapidly changing global legal profession. While the fulfilment of academic credits is the basis for the completion of the programme, there is also a mandatory research component which gives students an opportunity to write on topics of contemporary legal significance.

VISION

The LLM programme is developed to integrate Indian and global perspectives on aspects of corporate, international trade, intellectual property rights, taxation and general legal studies and emphasizes on an international, transnational and comparative approach to research. The programme aims to equip students with skills for global research enabling them to adapt, innovate and apply their knowledge to international legal issues. The objectives of the LLM programme are based on the vision of the O.P. Jindal Global University in imparting globalised legal education with a view to producing world class professionals, scholars, business leaders and academics in law.

Distinctive Features of the LLM

CPGLS, JGLS offers specially designed, fully accredited, one-year full-time LLM programme with a global exposure for students seeking a world class postgraduate education in Law. The Law School offers one-year LLM in the following fields. The LLM programme is academically rigorous, requiring students to produce at least one scholarly piece of writing of publishable quality during the course of their study. Students will be supervised by a faculty member and provided with the necessary help to publish his/her independent research.

- Corporate and Financial Law and Policy
- International Trade and Investment Law
- Intellectual Property Rights and Technology Law
- General LLM
- LLM Taxation (Non-Residential)

About the LLM Programme

As an advanced degree offered at CPGLS, JGLS, the LLM programme is designed to represent outstanding academic achievement. The intensive curriculum provides a number of electives on contemporary topics in international, business law, tax law oriented streams and industry centric. Our teaching pedagogy will be based on the assumption that students pursuing an LLM degree have a strong academic background and basic understanding of their speciality area. Many of our courses will be taught by both leading scholars and periodically by accomplished international and domestic practitioners. Leading academicians, senior lawyers, judges, industry professionals will be offering lectures as a part of the programme. We ensure high faculty-student ratio and better interactive learning atmosphere.

The specially designed, fully accredited one year LLM programme in Taxation is for professionals seeking a world class education in taxation laws. This advanced and specialised master's level course in international and comparative tax law is aimed at early to mid level corporate lawyers and tax professionals who are either willing to substantiate their knowledge and expertise in taxation laws or are willing to make a switch to this domain. The programme would focus on contemporary challenges and issues faced by professionals with regard to taxation, both domestic and cross-border. With the ever growing assimilation of markets globally, the determination of applicable tax jurisdictions and the procedural requirements thereafter is a monumental challenge for tax professionals. The administration of tax laws has the intrinsic tendency to result in disputes and litigation, primarily due to differences in the interpretation of the law by the authorities and the taxpayers. As a result, significant amounts of time, money and efforts are being employed both by the taxpayers and the Government with thousands of crores of taxes getting blocked in long-drawn litigations. The course will be designed in a manner to aid the professionals in tackling these conventional challenges and also the novel developments in the field of taxation. The programme would also be helpful in preparations for tax professional examinations in the UK (like the Chartered Tax Advisor exam) and other jurisdictions. It would provide an insight into the taxation system of EU as well.

O.P. Jindal Global University is proving to be a productive and enriching experience. The programme is presented in a practical and objective way and this gives me the tools that I need to contribute more and better to the challenges of development that my country faces. Things remarkable about this university are the work culture, the manner in which the whole CPGLS team works to see that the academic and logistical needs of the students are satisfied and that the faculty is accessible to all the students.

Class of LLM: 2014-2015

O.P. Jindal Global University is a place where global educational standards are truly enforced and great opportunities are offered and provided to the students. The method of teaching, programmes being offered and the way students are made to work and learn, is the uniqueness and distinctiveness of this university. I decided to opt for the LLM programme under Centre for Post Graduate Legal Studies within a very short period of time, leaving behind all other available alternatives. I was questioned by many about choosing India for my masters considering I had already done my bachelors in India. My answer to everyone was the same; it does not matter whether you are studying at a European or an Asian University, what matters is how you explore and utilize the opportunities through hard work and effort. I am glad that Jindal Global Law School has provided me with such opportunities.

Agnessy Mastala, Republic of Mozambique

Current: Jurist

Class of LLM: 2015-2016

People working for this esteemed University are highly qualified, experienced and entirely dedicated towards the interest of the students. The university is very good, and have all the necessary atmosphere to study, an excellent language center, teachers are outstanding and are always willing to help. The environment is student friendly where any student can feel comfortable and confident. It is indeed a great honour to be a part of this esteemed University, I must say that in addition to the certificate, I won a family.

My experience in O.P. Jindal Global University has been very good owing to the excellent courses being offered on the programme. I am pursuing the master's degree in International Trade Law and I believe that my education here will contribute to me becoming a better professional and will also help me add value to the growth of my country and people. I would like to emphasize that this university has outstanding teachers who are always willing to transmit knowledge to students. Also, the staff is very attentive and friendly.

Tahmina Enayat, Kabul, Islamic Republic of Afghanistan

Previously: Faculty of Law & Political Science, Kabul University, Islamic Republic of Afghanistan

Class of LLM: 2014-2015

The best thing about being a part of the Jindal Global Law School is the abundance of research seminars. Not only can you enhance your own study area, but also you are able to meet incredible people from different departments and universities. I find this immensely worthwhile as I intend to stay within academia. The social life is just as vibrant as the academic life.

Luis Jaime Marques, Republic of Mozambique

Previously: Senior Lecturer in Law and Head of the Department of Patrimony, Higher Institute of International Relations, Maputo, Republic of Mozambique

Class of LLM: 2013-2014

During my study at O. P. JGU, I made many friends among professors, classmates and staff. we were provided with an integrated campus with world-class facilities that enabled better learning. I highlight in this matter two elements: A well-equipped library and internet for 24 hours. For someone like me, coming from a country whose linguistic expression is not English, the centre of languages is of great help. In short, I am returning to my country with good memories and I wish the next cohort of international students all the very best.

Mir Abdul Wahed Hashimi, Kabul, Islamic Republic of Afghanistan

Current Position: Media Law and Policy Director-Internews Network, Kabul

Class of LLM: 2016-2017

I found JGU a place of opportunities, alongside interactive and participatory classes, JGU offers academic conferences and seminars which is very important for LLM students and researchers to upgrade their knowledge by participating in such events. The course materials are fresh and relevant that we could use in our professional field of work. Faculty members have very good understanding of the courses and are very professional. They are always available to responds to student inquires and provide feedback on student and researcher write ups.

Academic Overview

The One-Year LLM consists of core/foundational and elective courses drawn from one of the three specializations. The programme shall have minimum 28 credits with the following components:

- Three Core/Three Foundational mandatory courses (3 credits and 2 credits each)
- Five optional courses of (2 credits each) and
- Dissertation on a topic approved by the Dissertation Committee (3 Credits).

To graduate with a LLM in Taxation, candidates need to write a dissertation on a topic relevant to the area of tax law, along with the core and specialised courses. The courses and the dissertation would be spread across two semesters. As is evidenced through various studies, the major reason for dispute between Corporations and the Government is the lack of clarity relating to interpretation of the tax statues. The candidates would be introduced to rules of interpretation when it comes to tax statutes through various research assignments and case studies during their study period.

The teaching pedagogy will be based on the assumption that the candidates pursuing this programme have strong academic and professional background and basic understanding of the concepts of Taxation and Accounting. Many of the courses will be taught by both leading scholars and accomplished international and domestic practitioners. The LLM programme is designed to ensure high faculty-student ratio and better interactive learning atmosphere. In addition to course work, candidates will be given an opportunity to participate in certificate/ diploma programmes specially developed for JGU by the ACCA as a part of the proposed collaborations.

Research

This LLM programme offers a unique opportunity for candidates to engage in rigorous research. The outstanding academic qualifications of the JGLS faculty combined with a diverse array of research centres provide an amazing platform for the LLM candidates to participate in cutting-edge research. JGLS has established wide ranging collaborations with law schools and research institutions around the world.

As India's first global and research-driven law school, JGLS has established several research centres, out of which the following research centres are pertinent from the viewpoint of commercial/corporate, taxation and transnational trade laws:

- Centre for Comparative and International Taxation
- Centre for Global Corporate and Financial Law and Policy
